Dedication

In recognition of his sterling qualities as a teacher and his long time service to the school as advisor of the Tabula Publishing Board, which has so admirably discharged the financial responsibilities of our publications, we gratefully dedicate this issue of The Tabula to Maurice E. King.

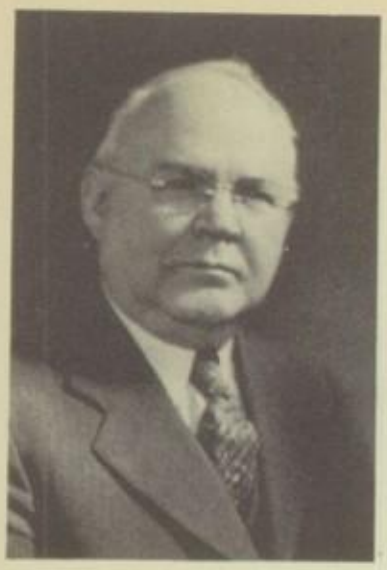
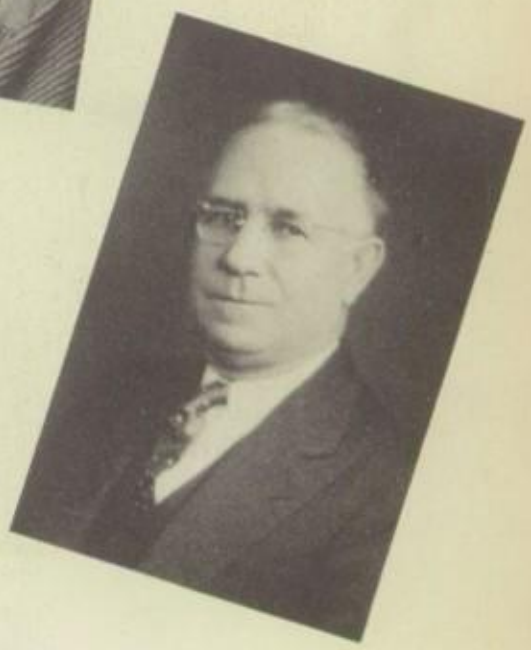
M. R. McDaniel — Superintendent

Mr. McDaniel has been our friend and adviser these past four years. The class of 1938 is the twenty-fifth, and by far the largest, class that has ever graduated under his supervision. We feel that it is only fitting that before commencing on the record of our school activities, we should render to him our appreciation for his sincere and helpful guidance.





The Deans

These have been our constant guides through the many problems of our school careers. It is to their individual help and advice that we owe much of our progress during high school.

Executive

Student government in Oak Park High School is represented by five councils. Most of the general authority is vested in the Student Council, composed of six seniors and two representatives from each of the other classes. The Senior members, with the Senior officers, arrange the class day program and take charge of planning commencement. Since Girls' Club is the largest club in the school, it has an executive council of twenty Senior and ten Junior girls. This year they conducted a successful Christmas stocking drive and a gala Mothers' meeting. Planning a Junior Prom takes time, energy, and efficient organization. To fill this and other needs, twenty Juniors are elected each year to form a council. Smoking Council is composed of Junior and Senior boys who operate without faculty supervision to enforce the smoking rules of the school. Safety Council is a newly formed group which sponsors a far-reaching safety campaign throughout the year. These five councils encourage self-reliance and initiative among many of the student body.

The Football Dance, given in honor of the championship football and soccer teams, and the Junior Prom, given by the Juniors for the Seniors, were considered great successes by all attending.

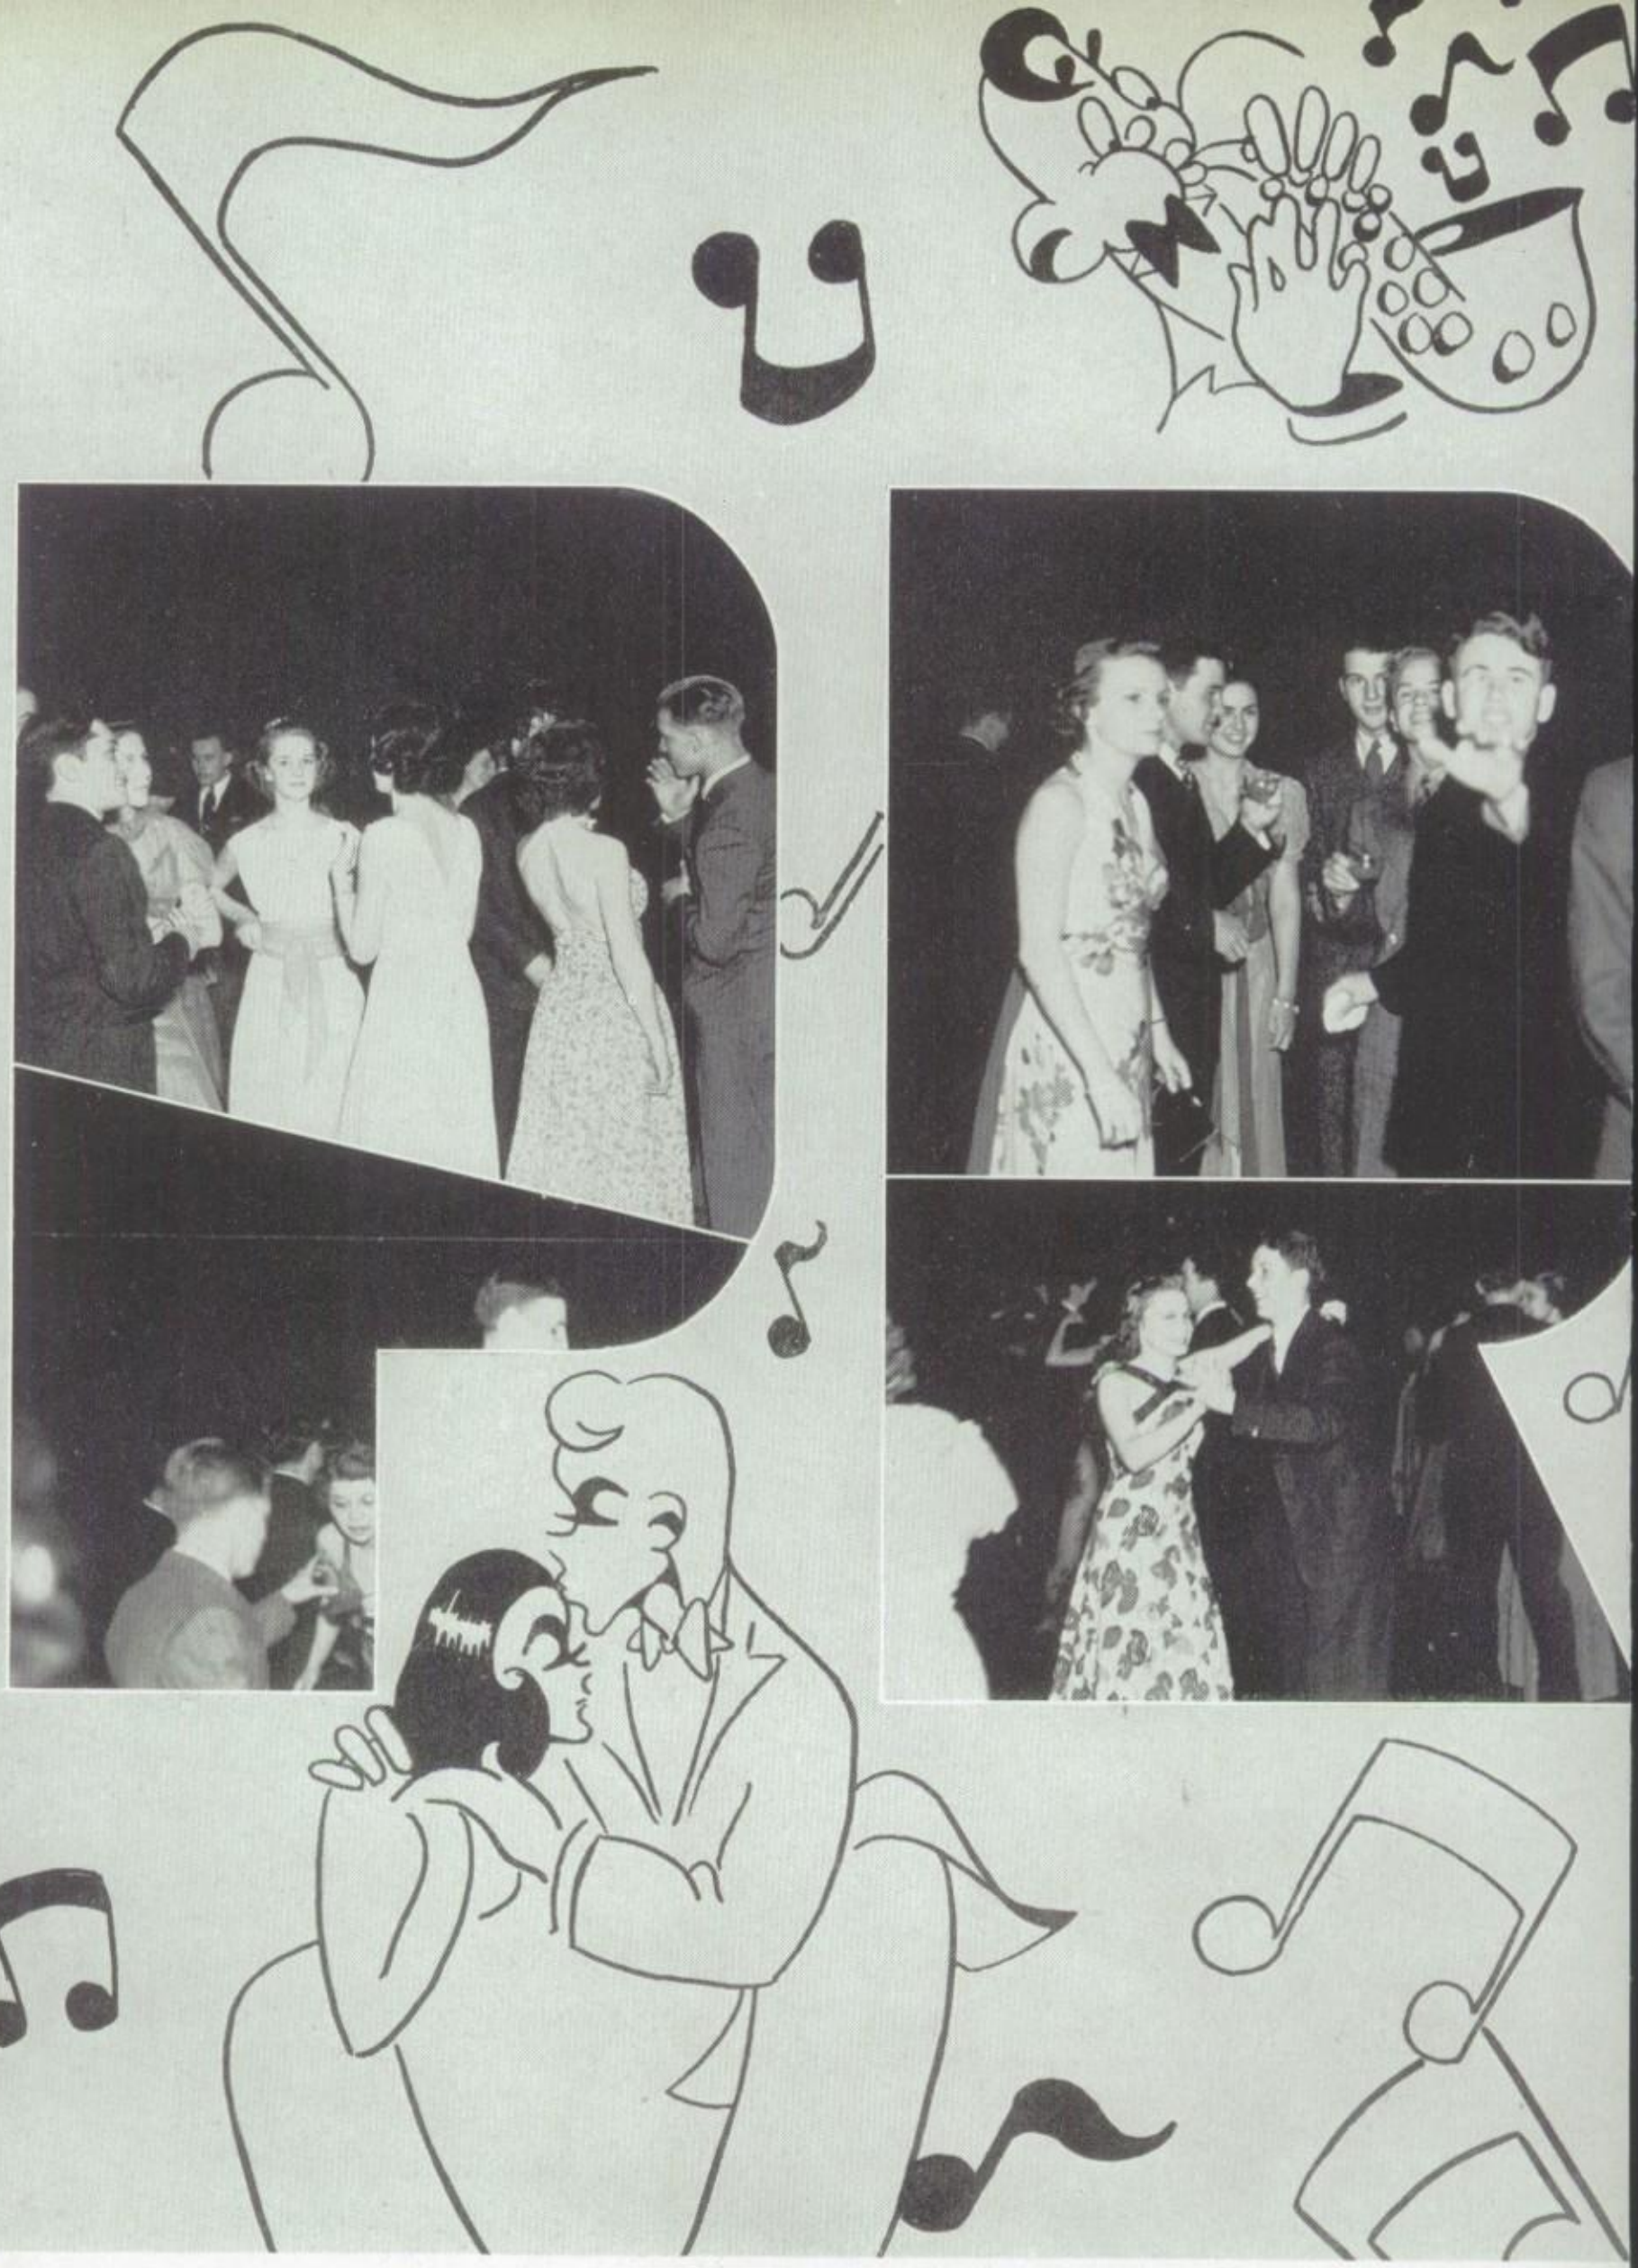
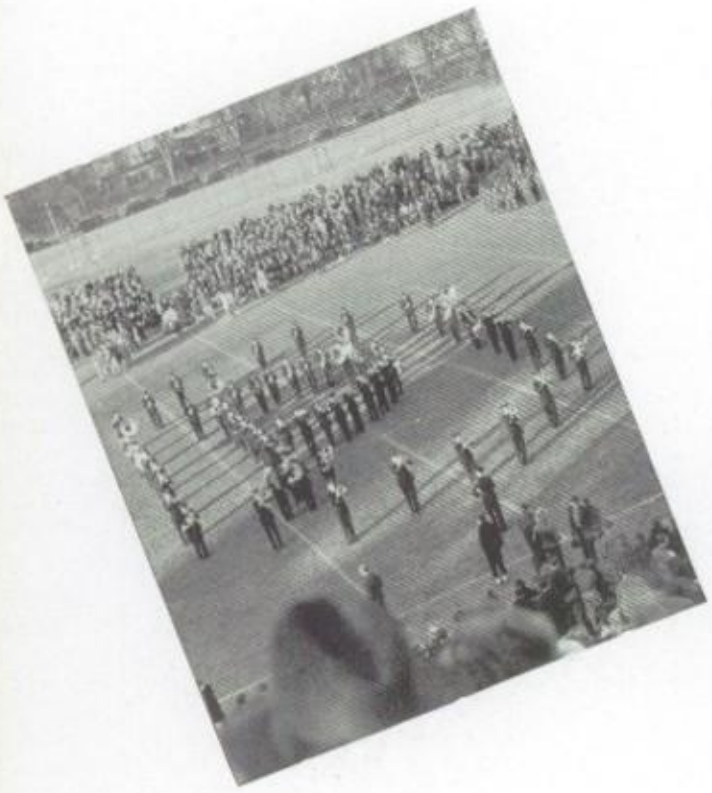
Further social outlet is provided for by five clubs. Monogram Club is open only to boys who have won major monograms. They are interested in promoting interscholastic athletics. Hi-Y is composed of certain Juniors and Seniors who strive to create and uphold high standards of character. It extends numerous services to the school and communtiy. At Christmas time the members of Hi-Y collected and repaired toys for underprivileged children. Later in the year they arranged interviews for the Senior boys with men connected with the particular line of work in which each boy was interested. Junior Hi-Y is composed of under classmen and is patterned after its big brother. Sportsmen's Club is made up of boys who are interested in outdoor life. At their meetings they often have men who are in outdoor work tell them of some particular phase of that sort of life. The membership of Brooks Club is limited to those in the religious training classes in the school. This club is predominantly social in character.



Music



Of all the traditions in Oak Park, that established and maintained by the music organizations is probably the most noted. The Christmas programs and those given in May are looked forward to annually by many of the student body and a great number of parents. Football games and other athletic events would not be complete without the band, and nothing need be said about their repeated successes with the "Toy Trumpet". Mr. Embs' orchestra gives invaluable aid in creating atmosphere for the Girls' Club Show and the Senior Class Play. Of course, there is a little matter of choruses in the Festivals, but Mrs. Boynton probably could tell you more about that than we could. After seemingly endless weeks of practice, the Festival finally comes along; and the male section, surrounded by that amazing scintillation of femininity, rolls out the bass and rides high on the treble. Uniforms don't grow on trees, so the combined bands get together once in a while and give a delightful concert for the purpose of raising money, mainly; but of course they just love to give a concert at any time for an audience. Mr. Little showed his ability to step into the breach and take charge of the orchestra when Mr. Embs turned up absent, because of illness, at this year's Christmas concert. Even though the regular director's absence was deeply felt, Mr. Little and his baton completely satisfied his audience with a fine job of fill-in directing. Mr. Embs was present, however, at the May Festival, conducting with his usual vigor and gusto. Both concerts were great successes, studded by brilliant solo performances, and beautiful coordination on the part of the choruses.

THE ORCHESTRA AND JUNIOR-SENIOR CHORUS

While group talent is being displayed publicly in the Festivals and concerts, individuals regale their musical accomplishments to the members of Music Club at their bi-weekly meetings. Besides the amateur entertainment, professional artists of long standing are often invited. And as for the faculty meeting—need we say anything more, with the music faculty what it is? Mrs. Boynton, Mr. Little and Mr. Embs and the other faculty members did themselves proud.

Dra-a-ama, Dra-a-ahma, whichever way you prefer, is all the same when it comes to any one of the dramatic clubs in school. Footlights, the Junior club, chose "Cabbages" for the title of the play it gave for assembly. Anyone who has seen it will agree with us that it was an outstanding success. It was the spectacle of an old German farmer and his wife, who have suddenly become rich through the discovery of oil on their land. The farmer is very desirous of keeping in his old way of life; while his wife wants to assume the garb of society and other sech high-falutin' stuff. As all plays must, it finally turns out all right, with everyone reverting to the old way of life.

Drama Club, the Senior outfit, broadcast over the radio on Station WLS, and performed very well, thank you. One of its broadcasts was a sketch which represented a typical day at Oak Park; while the other was a health play. If you ask us, though, Drama Club's biggest success was the takeoff on the Class Play, especially the tatwhen keys are thrown over walls in Senior Plays to come, they should be made of moulded rubber, or some other such soft material. It seems, from past experience at least, that a mere sheet is not sufficient as a life net. Moreover, when one tries to manoeuvre a fourteen-foot piece of scenery across the stage, through cast, extras, costumers, make-up artists and others, one can understand the boys when they say, "It wouldn't be bad if it weren't for the cast."

Another highlight in the school year is the Girl's Club Show. This year's show, most successfully presented under Miss Orcutt's direction, was a laughable comedy dealing with the adventures of twins in their search for "gentlemen" escorts; it was called "The Lilies of the Field." The grandmother announced that she would award a trip to London to the twin who first won the affections of the gentleman in question, an antiquarian. By reverting to the Victorian Age in dress and manner, one twin sought to win him; and although he showed her up by appearing in old-fashioned costume and taking her to the opera in a coach and four instead of a Rolls-Royce, she won his heart anyway.

The crowning achievement of any Senior class is its Class Play, and no one can say with any justification that the Class of 1938 has not won its crown of laurel in this division. The play, "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall," under the able direction of Miss Payne, was put on this year with traditional success. Mistaken identity, exiled queens, and plenty of sword-play all had a definite part in making our play one of the most thrilling ever produced in Oak Park. The performances and rehearsals were not without their lighter moments, however. When the air was filled with flying dishes and foodstuffs, such as chicken legs and wedding cakes, the hearts of the boys on the Stage Crew began to beat faster. Dramatic? Yes, but that wasn't it; the stuff kept landing on their fragile scenery too forcibly.

She tuck a tuck.

There is something about an empty stage which is sad and lonely, and just the other day we noticed that ours seemed especially so with only the ghosts of other class plays to keep it company, but there will be another play next year, and the ghosts of Dorothy Vernon and John Manners will soon have company.

One might wonder some time, what the noise is coming from the depths of Room 230 after school. It is the expostulations of the upcoming orators of tomorrow. Until 1933 little oratorical work was done in Oak Park High School, outside of the classes and the debating clubs. In '33 the first contestants were entered in the Prince of Peace contest. From '33 to '37 we have had three state, two interstate, and two district winners. In '34 the first extemporaneous contest was entered, and that department has enlarged to become the largest individual group. Meeting regularly all year, it supplies the contestants for all of the meets. In '35 an oratorical group was formed which succeeded in producing a district winner in the Union League contest. Since then three district and two state winners in other speech contests have been developed. A verse reading group was voluntarily formed, which is primarily used for developing pupils in an appreciation of poetry and prose. This year further success was gained in all fields entered. In oratory and oratorical declamation the outstanding speakers were Dorothy Sanem and Robert Finholt. Oak Park has earned a fine reputation in oratorical work under the leadership of Mr. Ramsay and through the hard work of the students.

joint meetings, Junior meetings, banquets, and the like, they have a busy year. What do they do in a debating club? Why, debate, of course! Ah! but that's not all! Ask the man who's in one. He'll tell you all about the orations he's given, the law drills he wishes he hadn't led, the extemporaneous speakers he's heckled, to say nothing of the refreshments he's ruined his digestion on. And what's more, there are four of these clubs! They call them "Lincoln" and "Burke" for the boys; and "Forum" and "Gavel" for the girls. The friendly rivalry between all four clubs helps to stimulate interest and activity. When the last meeting is over there isn't one who doesn't look back over the year without a sense of having accomplished something, and with the feeling: "That's a job well done."

Publications

We in Oak Park High School have reason to be proud of our three fine publications, each edited by a separate staff of editors, and all managed by one of the most efficient boards in school, the Tabula Publishing Board, whose tireless efforts under Mr. King's calm supervision have made these publications possible.

Like any other community, which must have at least one reliable source of general information, and a means of bringing before the public eye matters which are vital to their immediate welfare, we have our weekly organ of information and enjoyment, the Trapeze, an eight-page newspaper published weekly under the guidance of Mr. Hecketsweiler. Of its many features, Trappings, the local gossip line, and the Spotlight, short biographical sketches of prominent Seniors, are, perhaps, the most popular.

ART STAFF

Just before Christmas vacation, and again in May, appear the two issues of the Literary Tabula. Stories, verse, and essays, all contributed by their student creators, are beautifully assembled by the editors who are directed by Miss Burt and Mr. Hohn. Much of the charm of these prize-winning magazines lies in the clever illustration. This publication is invaluable as an outlet for the literary and artistic talents of some of our gifted students.

The third, and the most elaborate, school publication is the Senior Tabula, the volume you hold in your hand. The whole record of the school year is reproduced permanently in a legion of exciting pictures. And speaking of pictures, you should know that the Photographic Staff, under Mr. Lane, does the unusual and tremendous job of taking nearly all the pictures used in the annual and in the Trapeze, pictures which compare most favorably with professional work.

All this may sound very fine, but it is easier said than done. Many study periods and afternoons are sacrificed by the editors of these productions to the never-ending task of editing. Trap editors spend every week in the school year gathering and writing items to be published in their paper. The Literary Tabula staff spends most of its time pleading for and accepting, or rejecting student manuscripts. Senior Tabula editors spend their working time getting captions, writing copy, and arranging layouts. Meanwhile, the real backbone of school publications, the Publishing Board, is soliciting ads, and persuading students to buy their "merchandise."

The Making of an Annual

So you want to know how an annual is made . . . (gosh, we wish we knew).

If you happen to chance by room 316 some day during 6th period, you might see some editors planning an annual, but you are more likely to see a group of editors tossing waste-baskets, playing ball with glue cans, and learning the Big Apple.

Around Christmas time, when Mr. Kimball begins to wake up in cold sweats of worry, you can see how thirteen editors can swing into action with the perfect coordination of a machine—(heh, heh). Then come days and nights of pasting, cutting, drawing, writing, pasting, drawing, cutting, pasting, writing, cutting, drawing and pasting. Frantic editors slowly going mad as the dead-line draws nearer and the strain becomes unbearable. Engraver's Dead-Line, Copy Dead-Line, Printer's Dead-Line . . . till suddenly, just at the breaking point, everything is done and THE TABULA is ready for the consumer.

Routine, the common spectre of all business, is completely and gladly forgotten while the tired captain of industry follows his ball around the golf course, or while he fools with a camera or shatters clay pigeons on the skeet range.

This business of education is also dogged by that same spectre. School might be much more enjoyable if it were not for the daily routine of classes. It follows then, that students must have an outlet for the tremendous energy stored up while dozing in class. Much of this excess steam is blown off through the clubs, a safety valve. If one has a special yen toward, say, photography, or radio, it is very simple to join a club and get more out of high-school than merely what is learned in classes.

It is probable that not many outside of Radio Club know that there is a licensed short-wave radio station

Before we have them on our necks, let us say that we also have a very fine camera club for girls. One who has seen any of their displays will vouch for that.

This could go on and on "ad infinitum"; and by the way, that reminds us of Latin Club. What would Spotlight writers do if it wasn't for Latin Club? The members of this club follow the adage and "do as the Romans do," so if you see a toga-clad freshman wandering about these venerable halls, just recall that he is probably recovering from one of those Roman wedding feasts the Club holds every so often.

Let us warn you about entering the lunch-room of a Tuesday afternoon; always look both ways, including up, before proceeding. If you disregard this friendly advice, you are liable to be smacked right smart by some miniature super-speed creation which is the pride of Aviation Club; also be very watchful for one of those big gas models the boys are in the habit of making.

In many of our Senior plays, the supporting cast is made up of dancers. These dancers are admirably trained by Terpsichore (why don't they say dancing) Club, and most of them are members of the Club themselves. One of the highest achievements of this year was the teaching of the Highland Fling to a few of our would-be Highlanders. Only it seems that the Club doesn't supply garters.

Those private puzzles which were printed in the Trap turned out to be chess games on paper, which the exponents of checkers-for-the-higher-ups will explain more fully. The Club played a number of matches this year, and came out as an Oak Park team should.

Another up-and-coming young club is Harmonica Club. The members of this musical outfit are training to be organists some day, only are a wee bit different, going from mouth to hand.

The largest club of this type is Arts and Crafts. One of their biggest jobs is filling the Christmas stockings which are given to the more unfortunate children of Chicago. Their future husbands will be blessed (?) with an abundance of knitted apparel.

Perhaps the wealthiest club, in one sense of the word, is Stamp Club. With their many, and no doubt priceless, collections of stamps, they should be able to retire in the near future. We've often wondered if they all licked their own stamps.

WEATHER BUREAU

Flash!!! Today a well-known personage "kicked the bucket" in a most mysterious way. At 1:00 P.M. this afternoon Mr. Sucker, of the Lake Michigan Suckers, an obscure branch of the Fish family, was seen swimming gently in the lack of water on the Oak St. beach. Five hours later he was dead.

The inquest was to be held at 3:30 P.M. today but was postponed because Mr. Sucker didn't die soon enough. An autopsy was asked for and the body was turned over to O.P.H.S. for this purpose. As it was said to be raining when the deceased died, the Weather Bureau was consulted. However, they had been forecasting the weather for the next week and didn't know "weather" it rained or not, except that the streets of our fair village were flooded. After the Zoology Club had dissected the body, they listened to a lecture on taxidermy and a discussion of the genus of the deceased. There was a little doubt expressed as to the manner of his death, so they turned several fluids, found in the body, over to the Chemistry Club for identification. These august scientists took several trips, had a few lectures and pronounced their verdict: Mr. Sucker was killed by an overpowering nostalgia for the product of the combustion of Hydrogen and Oxygen, which takes place when——. Anyway, he died from lack of water. There was, however, one further test; the scales had to be counted. Accordingly, Newton Club was called in. After a slide rule demonstration, trying to trisect an angle, and learning to count like an Indian, they decided that the school had examined the right body. As a final step, the Freshmen in Science Club re-enacted this whole scene. This was done by the members, as were the demonstrations on water, glassmaking and kindred subjects. Darn clever, these scientists.

This hypothetical case shows how the scientific student of Oak Park spends his time in the pursuit of extracurricular activity. Live and learn; that's our motto.

Fall

The 1937 fall sport season, as far as Oak Park was concerned, was extremely successful. During this season, one State Championship and two Suburban League Championships were garnered by the grid men.

Under the captainship of Don Peterson, the varsity football squad won all their games in the league, with a total of 239 points against their opponents' 19. Instead of starting the season in a weak fashion as in other years, the team downed its opponents with such tremendous scores as 45 to 7 against Riverside, 46 to 0 against Horace Mann, 39 to 0 against Morton; and the rest is history. Coach Holmes's men had one of the most successful seasons in the history of Oak Park, and to top off the season, journeyed to Miami Senior High on Christmas Day.

The State Championship Soccer Team won fourteen out of seventeen games, and two of those not won were ties. The Woodmen were led through this outstanding season by Captain Ed Bushing.

Bill Rock, as captain, piloted the Fresh-Sophs to victory and the almost traditional winning of the Suburban League Championship. Under the guidance of Coach Souchek another successful team of beginners was whipped into shape.

The "JV's" came out successful by winning the majority of their games with co-captains Bob Anderson and Henry Ovson. The only discrepancy in this otherwise exceptional season was the misfortune the "Lights" met with; they were able to win only one of their games. They were captained by Ed Wittman.

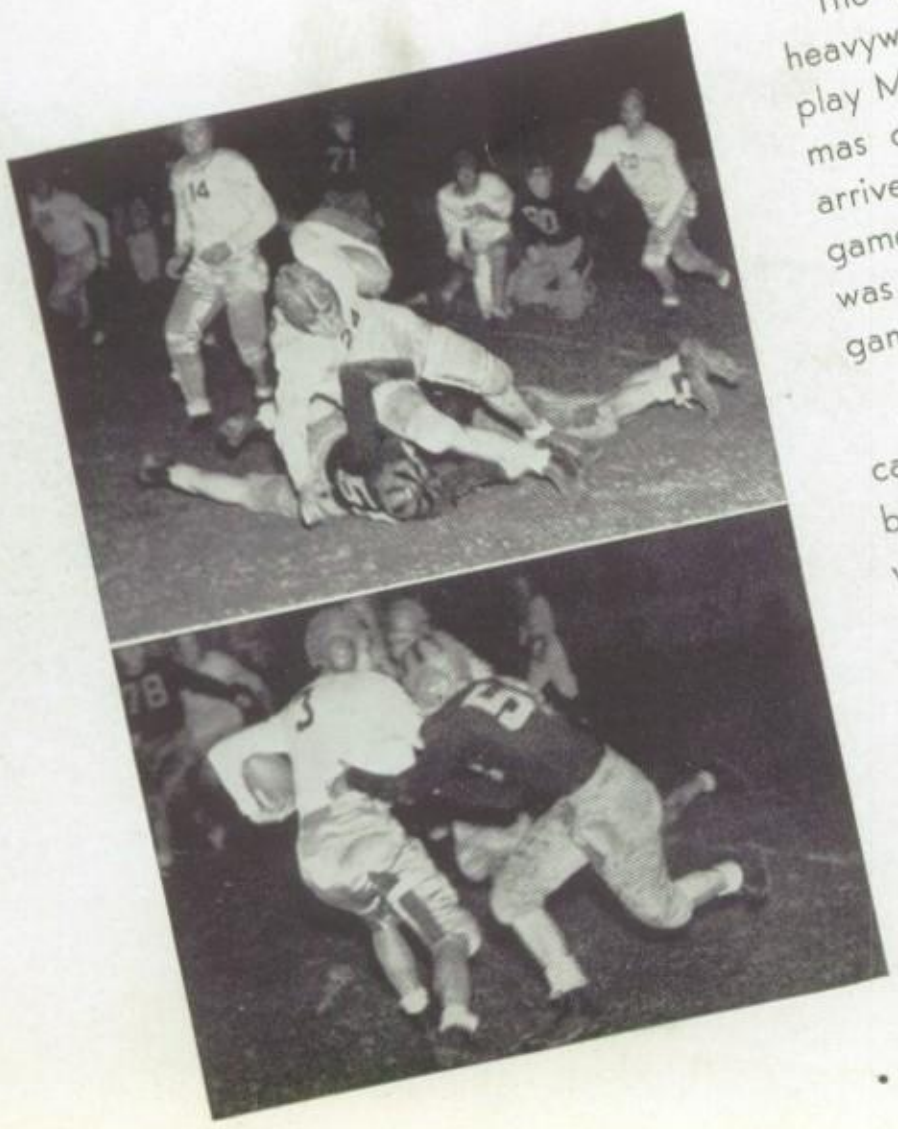
Miami



The high spot of the aforementioned undefeated heavyweight football season was an invitation to play Miami Senior High in the Orange Bowl Christmas day. The team, after a four-day bus trip, arrived in Miami two days before the game. The game was to be played at night, so night practice was held on the trip and the two days before the game.

At the game in the Orange Bowl, played on a carpet of rolling green grass, were a goodly number of Oak Parkers to cheer for D. O. O. P., along with a crowd big enough to be typical of any college game. Although the teams seemed evenly matched, the Oak Parkers were affected much more by the heat than were the Miamians, and not until the second half did Coach Holmes's Huskies break loose. Though Miami was out yarded by Oak Park, the game ended in a tie 6 to 6.

Swimming Basketball

Of the four Oak Park basketball teams, the Sophomore squad was the only one to come through with a Suburban League Championship. Under the tutelage of Coach Noth they tied with Morton for the League Championship. Bob Smidl and Ken Ossman captained the championship team.

The varsity cagers, coached by Mr. Scott, had a rather weak season and finished fourth in the Suburban League. With Co-captains Bob Kirsch and Fred Falls to spur the team on, they managed, however, to end the season with a majority of games in the "win" column.

The "J.V.'s," captained by Wally Stinson and coached by Mr. Gocker, worked hard and well together throughout the entire season, and finished the season winning five out of their nine games.

Coach Asbury started with a rather green team of freshmen and was successful enough to have them finish the season with four games won out of nine scheduled. Ray Michaels captained the Frosh squad.

Coach O. E. Smith's natators were captained this season by Bill Smeeth. In spite of the damage done by the New Trier tankmen, the Varsity finished second in the Suburban League and fifth in the State meet. The Fresh-Soph splashers, aided by Pete Franzen, gained needed experience and closed the year fourth in the league.

Coach Woodruff's varsity thinclads, despite several defeats by New Trier, won the coveted League meet. With the brilliant examples set by Captains Ralph Clapp and Bill Williams, the team has thus far, including an undefeated outdoor season, lost but three meets. The Frosh-Soph team is literally following the footsteps of the upper classmen and have lost but one meet. As the Tabula went to press, the varsity squad finished first in the outdoor State meet.

The spring season is rather difficult to sum up as it is not closed until the last days of school. The track team with its usual successful season, the Oak Park nines showing outstanding power, the tennis team winning all meets thus far, all somewhat overshadow the only-half-way performance of the golf team.

Coach Foster's varsity baseball team, called by some the best all-around team they have ever seen on Oak Park's diamond, is holding tightly to its second place position, with great aspirations of beating Morton, the title holder. Hal Schneider and Bernard Stinson are leading the hopeful nine as co-captains. The Fresh-Sophs, coached by Mr. Asbury, seem to be influenced by the spirit of their varsity brethren and have lost but one game.

The netmen, with netman Les McAllister holding the title of captain, seem fully as successful. Coach Noth is leading the team at a fast clip through its paces, and the team has not yet in its encounters had to chalk up any marks other than wins.

The golf team has second-year Captain Earl Wilde to help bring around a rather weak team. Coach Gocker's teemen have begun to show signs of strengthening after a slow start and are almost even on the wins and losses.

The outdoor track season was recorded as well as possible in the winter track section up until the State meet.

Outside of the interscholastic sports, hundreds of students have participated in athletics. Some through the intermurals managed by Mr. Scott, and others through the annual gym exhibit.

Atalanta

Atalanta is the girls' athletic organization in high school. In order to become a member, a girl must earn two hundred points by keeping health rules, participating in various sports, taking First Aid or Life Saving, and by passing posture exams. In order to remain a member, it is necessary to earn one hundred and fifty points a semester, and play on at least one team.

Atalanta has regular meetings with a variety of programs. This year a Penny Carnival, a Play Day, and a Swimming party furnished a great deal of enjoyment. The Christmas Party for settlement children and the Mother's Meeting are yearly events to which everyone looks forward. One of the great undertakings of Atalanta is to plan and give the Football Dance. The girls make the decorations and all other necessary arrangements. The most exciting moment in an Atalanta meeting comes when girls who have earned a sufficient number of points through their athletic activities are presented with their awards.

In the Gym Exhibit several hundred girls participate in various events of marching, drilling, pyramid-building, and dancing. This exhibit is illustrative of the work done in the different departments. The girls also play hockey, soccer, and tennis, both as gym work and as after school activity. The various class teams compete in all the sports. This year the Seniors were victors in both hockey and soccer, and the Sophomores in volleyball.

"Front approach, head carry! — Underwater approach, cross chest carry!—A theme on artificial respiration!" These are a few phrases which may be heard while Miss Pressl is holding a life saving class. The girls work patiently in class and after school to get their badges. Girls under seventeen receive Junior Life Saving badges; while those seventeen and over receive Senior Life Saving badges. Sore muscles, noses full of water, bleary eyes, and wet hair, all must be tolerated by these comely mermaids to win the Red Cross Awards. But, when all is finished, there is not one girl who does not feel that it is worth the time and trouble.

MOST LIKELY to succeed is the graduate who starts a savings account with his first pay from his first job. When opportunity knocks, you must have money to open the door.

Get all the education you can now. Then save money so you can use the education profitably. Many an opportunity has gone to someone else because the first person asked had to answer "No."

Make up your mind that you'll have money when you need it. Start saving when you start earning. Then you'll have a little capital to risk when you have the experience to do so safely.

PALMER'S
FOR FLOWERS

Maintaining our leadership in Oak Park, where for the past sixteen years we have been satisfying our most discriminating flower buyers.

Here you will find, as in the past, an inflexible policy to provide the finest and freshest flowers, plants and floral arrangements, so artistically clustered as to enhance their natural loveliness —and at prices that will instantly dispel any idea that choice flowers are a luxury.

FACTS AND FIGURES

. . . Not Guesswork

Recently we asked a customer seeking credit to fill out a financial statement. As he told us later, he first thought making out the statement would mean a lot of work. But, when he brought the information to us, he said enthusiastically:

"I'm glad you asked me to do this. These figures give me a clearer picture of my business than I've ever had before. From now on, facts and figures—not guesswork—will be my policy."

We require a financial statement from commercial borrowers because it safeguards the interests of our depositors—and is usually helpful to the borrower.
